Parent's Role In Child's ECG Journey

As our child matures, our role evolves...

Supervisor

Consultant

- Involved, but supportive
- Point them to resources – empower them to work out the “how-to”s
- Give them space to fail – let them try & solve problems
- Ask questions from different perspectives

Summary

1. There is no right or wrong pathway for your child.
Every child is unique, so is their pathway.
2. We are all in this journey with your child. Prepare your child to be successful in life, not just academics. 21st century core competencies are important.
3. The more your child know about himself, the better his decisions will be.

“The more your children know about themselves, the better their decisions will be”
